Just for a drink.....

The Yew Tree, Cauldon Low ST10 3EJ:

A particularly special and unusual pub packed with curiosities, pianolas, Victorian musical machines and much, much, more. Recommended for atmosphere and beer rather than food (although the crisps are probably fine!)

The Barley Mow, Kirk Ireton DE6 3JP:

Worth a visit. A completely untouched and unspoilt pub, no soft seats but a lovely draught cider and unusual beers, no food.

The Bank, 2 Dig Street, Ashbourne DE6 1GS:

Superb cocktail bar. Interesting and inventive cocktails, brunch and pizzas too. A fantastic party place – be sure to book!

The Tap House, St Georges Street, Buxton

Buxton Brewery tap house has 5 continuously changing Buxton cask lines, 8 continuously changing Buxton keg lines, plus guest beers from other brilliant UK craft breweries. They have a rotating draft cider line and more than 80 different bottled beers from all around the World.

The Watts Russell, Hopedale DE6 2GD

Our closest pub, an eccentric place that feels a bit like someone's front room.

Catholic: Ashbourne

Methodist: Ashbourne

Please ask for latest parish Newsletter for local service times.

Cleaning Materials

Eco-friendly cleaning materials are stored in the sitting room cupboard. Please don't use abrasives to clean the bath or saucepans.

Compost

We compost uncooked vegetable waste- peelings, cores etc. If you wish to, please place compostable material in the green compost bin in the vegetable garden beside the farmyard. Please don't put teabags in the compost as they contain plastic. All cooked food can be put into the brown bin.

Cooking

The hob is an induction one with touch sensitive controls. Just select the ring then use the -+ scale to choose the temperature between 1 and 9. P is a booster. Hob will switch off automatically when things spill or boil over or unexpected items cover the controls or rings. You can lock or unlock hob by holding the lock symbol down for 30 seconds.

Organics and Trees

Beechenhill became a fully organic farm in June 2000. An organic system uses no chemical fertiliser or spray. It relies on the natural system of clover taking nitrogen from the atmosphere and making it available to grass, as well as spreading composted manure. Animals are not routinely treated with antibiotics and are fed at least 95% organic foods, and no genetically modified organisms. An organic system aims to maintain the diversity of the wildlife and environment. Beechenhill became one of a network of demonstration farms for the Soil Association, holding farm walks for those interested in organic farming.

In 2022 Terry retired from milking. Some land was sold and the remaining land is let to a neighbouring farmer. The land to the north and west has been planted with 4,835 native trees to form an open canopy mixed woodland.

Principles of Organic Farming and growing

To work as much as possible within a closed system

To maintain the long term fertility of the soil

To avoid all forms of pollution

To produce foodstuffs of high nutritional quality and sufficient quantity

To reduce the use of fossil energy

To give livestock conditions of life that conform to their physiological needs and humanitarian principles

For agricultural producers to earn a living

To use appropriate technology

To develop decentralised systems

Post Offices

Ashbourne has a main Post Office in the Co-op and a sub-post office at the Duke of York Filling Station at Mayfield. Hartington has a sub-post office.

Police

Because we are in Staffordshire the police at Leek deal with incidents in our area.

Call: 101 for non-emergency issues. Call: 999 for emergencies.

Pubs and Restaurants

There is a comprehensive list in this directory.

Recycling

We recycle glass, cans, newspaper, magazines, plastic, bulbs, batteries. The bins are by the greenhouse. Compostable, uncooked vegetable waste can be placed in the compost bin in the vegetable garden. For more information please see the recycling information in this directory.

There are walks, both strenuous and easy from the cottage. See maps and guidebooks.

Environmental Statement

The Green Stuff- Our Philosophy

We are here once on this planet, we don't get a second chance; we have to do it right this time. We have no right to wreck our environment. Our forebears brought us to this point, we need to enable our children and their children to have good lives and revel in the beauty and majesty of this miraculous planet.

We live here in a beautiful place in the Peak District National Park, an area recognised by the nation as an exceptionally valuable landscape. We have the opportunity to try and live in this beautiful place in a way that improves our environment, uses our resources efficiently and creates as little waste as possible. We are certainly not perfect but are on a journey towards improving what we do and how we do it.

By farming organically we want to work in sympathy with nature- we don't want to fight or try and bend nature to our needs. Nature provides everything we humans need.

It is very important to us that we share our place with you. We are proud of Beechenhill, and we delight in sharing it with you.

So what do we do?

Recycling:

We have somewhere for you to recycle

- Glass
- Cans
- Paper
- Plastic
- Cooked food waste
- Cardboard
- Tetra packs
- Food packaging
- Batteries
- Light bulbs

Our business recycles

- All the above
- Printer cartridges (the ones we don't re-fill)
- Crisp packets and soft plastic
- Contact Lenses!
- Furniture and furnishings go to the local community or Freecycle

- We purchase local food
- We use local suppliers and contractors (Porters our wonderful laundry in Leek)
- We use eco-friendly cleaning products and washing powder
- We use rainwater for toilet flushing
- We have dual flushes on some WCs
- We have a biomass heating system using wood pellets
- We generate electricity with solar panels on the cowshed roofs
- We have optimum insulation - some of it, local sheep wool
- We buy in bulk
- We only use recycled paper
- We can arrange to pick you up from Ashbourne bus station and from the pub in our electric car.

Composting

- We compost all uncooked food waste in our vegetable garden
- Cooked food is collected, composted and recycled

Where we can:

We supply you with:

- Local foods and local ready-meals from local environmentally friendly farming- you can walk across the fields - then eat the food produced there!
- Recycled kitchen rolls and toilet rolls
- Luxury eco constructed to have 80% of weight in the pile so dry extra well and energy efficient in laundry.
- Double glazed windows and insulating window shutters or heavy lined curtains where possible
- All low energy and LED light bulbs
- Where possible, we have used low rated appliances to reduce energy consumption
- Eco friendly washing powder, cleaning products and washing up liquid
- Safe storage for your bikes
- Electric Vehicle charging points
- Lots of information about local walks, public transport and where to buy local products

- Appreciate our environment
- Book our Elemental Experience in the hot tub or sauna, enjoy the natural environment outside at night too!
- Be careful with our resources- eg: don't leave the lights and heating on when you go out
- Enjoy the Peak District by walking, cycling and riding
- Hire our electric bikes and get to enjoy our local lanes and pubs!
- Obey the 'Country Code'
- Reduce, Reuse, Recycle!
- Be careful with our septic tank- please don't use chemicals that may kill our friendly bacteria
- Buy local products
- Reuse bags and please don't leave us with tons of rubbish!

How do we monitor what we do?

- We are proud to have achieved The Peak District Environmental Quality Mark, they monitor our progress every year
- We are delighted to have achieved a GOLD Award for the Green Tourism Business Scheme, they monitor our progress every two years. We try to improve our practises to improve our awards
- We achieved Gold in the Environmental and Sustainability category in the Enjoy Staffordshire Awards 2018 and Silver in 2019. We must prove our credentials and what we are doing to improve, in order to get awards.
